STATES REORGANISATION ACT, 1956

37 of 1956

[31st August, 1956]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS "The States of India, as they exist today, have been formed largely as a result of historical accidents and circumstances, and there has, therefore, been a demand for the reorganisation of the component units of the Indian Union on a more rational basis, after taking into account not only the growing importance of the regional languages, but also financial, economic and administrative considerations. The States

Reorganisation Commission was accordingly constituted in December, 1953, to Investigate the conditions of this problem, the historical background, the existing situation, and all other relevant factors and to recommend the principles which could be considered appropriate as well as the broad lines on which particular States should be reorganized. The Commission reported on 30th September, 1955. The proposals contained in the report and the matters connected therewith have received attention all over the country and have been discussed in Parliament and State Legislatures. This Bill seeks to give effect to the scheme of reorganisation which has emerged as a result of these discussions. The main features of the reorganisation proposed are the abolition of the existing constitutional distinction between Part A, Part B and Part C States, the establishment of two categories for the component units of the Union, to be called States and Union territories, and the abolition of the institution of the Rajpramukh consequent on the disappearance of the Part B States. In this Bill, It is proposed to provide for the transfer of the Telangana area of Hyderabad to Andhra and the remaining of the enlarged State the transfer of certain areas from Travancore Cochin to Madras, the forming of the new States of Kerala, Mysore, Maharashtra and Gujarat the merger of Madhya Bharat, Vindhya Pradesh and Bhopal with the Mahakosal area of Madhya Pradesh, the merger of Ajmer with Rajasthan and the merger of the Patiala and East Punjab States Union with Punjab, Bombay, Delhi, Himachal Pradesh, Manipur, Tripura and the Andaman and Nicobar Islands will become Union territories. The Laccadive, Minicoy and Amindivi islands will also be treated as a Union territory. In view of the proposal for the amalgamation of Bihar and West Bengal which is under consideration, no provision has been made in this Bill for any territorial adjustments between these two States. The Bill makes the necessary-supplemental and incidental provisions relating to representation in Parliament and in the State Legislatures, establishment of High Courts, apportionment of assets and liabilities and other matters. It also makes provision for the setting up of five Zonal Councils which will be advisory bodies, competent to discuss matters of common interest, particularly in the field of economic and social planning. As required by the proviso to Article 3 of the Constitution of India, this Bill was referred by the President on the 16th March, 1956, to the Legislatures of the 12 Part A and Part B States affected by the scheme of reorganisation, and they were given one month's time for expressing their views. Except In the case of Travancore-Cochin, whose Legislative Assembly has since been dissolved by proclamation of the President, the views of the Legislatures of all the other States have been received and will be placed before Parliament for its consideration."-Gaz. of Ind., 1956, Extra.. OBJECTS AND REASONS "Rights and liabilities under subsisting contracts and outstanding liabilities in respect of actionable wrongs are matters of immediate concern to the public. Since it is desirable that the private party should know with which successor State he would have to deal after reorganisation, general provisions are made in clauses 82 and 83 (now Sections 87 and 88) for this purpose. Where there is more than one successor State to an existing State and the rights and liabilities in respect of a contract or actionable wrong cannot be locally allocated to a particular successor State, it is allocated to the principal successor State subject to subsequent financial adjustment between that State and the other successor State which may be concerned in the matter." - S.O.R.

OBJECTS AND REASONS "The division of assets and liabilities is bound to be a complicated matter and it may well be anticipated that the general provisions made in this part will not cover all possible cases fully and satisfactorily. This section accordingly vests the Central Government with power to make such adjustments as may be found just or equitable. It is proposed that this power should be exercisable by the Central Government only on a reference being made by the aggrieved State within a period of three years from the appointed day and only after consultation with all the State Governments concerned."-S.O.R.
