PART 18 EMERGENCY PROVISIONS

352. Proclamation of Emergency :-

(1) If the President is satisfied that a grave emergency exists whereby the security of India or of any part of the territory thereof is threatened, whether by war or external aggression or 6[armed rebellion], he may, by Proclamation, make a declaration to that effect 363[in respect of the whole of India or of such part of the territory thereof as may be specified in the Proclamation.]

364[(2) A Proclamation issued under Cl. (1) may be varied or revoked by a subsequent Proclamation.

(3) The President shall not issue a Proclamation under Cl. (1) or a Proclamation varying such Proclamation unless the decision of the Union Cabinet (that is to say the Council consisting of the Prime Minister and other Ministers of Cabinet rank appointed under Art.75 ) that such a Proclamation may be issued has been communicated to him in writing.

(4) Every Proclamation issued under this article shall be laid before each House of Parliament and shall, except where it is a Proclamation revoking a previous Proclamation, cease to operate at the expiration of one month unless before the expiration of that period it has been approved by resolution of both Houses of Parliament : Provided that if any such Proclamation (not being a Proclamation revoking a previous Proclamation) is issued at a time when the House of the People has been dissolved, or the dissolution of the House of the People takes place during the period of one month referred to in this clause, and if a resolution approving the Proclamation has been passed by the Council of States, but no resolution with respect to such Proclamation has been passed by the House of the People before the expiration of that period, the Proclamation shall cease to operate at the expiration of thirty days from the date on which the House of the People first sits after its reconstitution, unless before the expiration of the said period of thirty days a resolution approving the Proclamation has been also passed by the House of the People.

(5) A Proclamation so approved shall, unless revoked, cease to operate on the expiration of a period of six months from the date of the passing of the second of the resolutions approving the Proclamation under Cl. (4) : Provided that if and so often as a resolution approving the continuance in force of such a Proclamation is passed by both Houses of Parliament the Proclamation shall, unless revoked, continue in force for a further period

(6) For the purposes of Cls. (4) and (5), a resolution may be passed by either House of Parliament only by a majority of the total membership of that House and by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members of that House present and voting.

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing clauses, the President shall revoke a proclamation issued under Cl. (1) and such Proclamation is in operation.

369[ * * * *] Article 352 of the Constitution does not prescribe that a Proclamation of Emergency should be published in the Official Gazette. In so far as the Acts and resolutions passed by the House of Parliament and the State Legislature are concerned that very process of passing the law or the resolutions in the Houses of Parliament or the State Legislature gives them ample publicity. The reports of the proceedings of Parliament and the State Legislatures are widely circulated. The newspapers, radio and television are also the other modern means which give publicity to all Acts and resolutions of Parliament and the Legislature of the States. The publication of the Parliament debates though after some short delay is adequate publication of the resolutions of Parliament as there is no rule which requires that the resolutions should be published in the Official Gazette. Hence mere non-publication of the resolutions approving the Proclamation of emergency in the Official Gazette did not make them ineffective.<sup>370</sup>
